FIRST TIME CLIENTS

For organisations submitting a set of standards for accreditation for the first time, an additional optional service of an advance technical review is available at an extra cost of €1,000.

This allows the organisation to prepare their submission in advance of scheduling a survey and to receive guidance on the actual submission including where criteria may have been misinterpreted, where gaps in compliance are noted or where additional evidence may be required.

This gives client organisations time to work on their submission and to agree on realistic survey dates with ISQua EEA based on the feedback received.
